YOU WERE ATTACKED!? BY WHO!?
B-BUT I'M OKAY! SOMEONE SAVED ME
WHO WAS HE?
WHY DIDN'T YOU ASK HIM IN?
AND THEN HE BROUGHT ME HOME
I DON'T KNOW! HE WAS DISGUISED AS THE DRIVER.
HE TOOK ME TO A BUILDING SITE

HE WAS VERY MYSTERI-OUS.
HE WOULDN'T EVEN TELL ME HIS NAME.
I WONDER IF I'LL EVER SEE HIM AGAIN...

HIS LONG HAIR FLOWING IN THE WIND...
HE'S NO ORDINARY MAN...

HE WAS ALMOST LIKE A BIRD.
HUH?
UH... YES, I SUPPOSE
NARUMIYA?
THAT'S THE SORT OF THING NARUMIYA WOULD DO ISN'T IT, FATHER?
BUT WHO COULD HAVE BEEN BEHIND IT? WHAT WOULD ANYONE HAVE TO GAIN BY KILLING ME?

I don't mind flying in airplanes. Taking off feels really good. But after a while I start thinking about how there's nothing but air under my feet, and then I get scared. I think skydiving might be fun. Then I imagine the terror of jumping out and nope, can't do it. I hear a few reports of people falling while hang gliding every year too.

A reckless hang glider

I heard that most plane crashes happen during take-off or landing, especially while landing. Ever since I found that out, I've found myself getting nervous every time we land.

Hang gliding should be done during the day Hang gliding relies on visual flight so do not fly at sunset when it is getting dark

Furthermore it is common sense not to fly in the skies above the city unless it is absolutely necessary
